Report of Principal and School Improvement Council

The entire staff and student body of Clay Hill Middle School have been diligently at work during the 2008-2009 school year. Faced with an Absolute Rating of Unsatisfactory, an Improvement Rating of Below Average, and Inadequate Yearly Progress, we knew our work was cut out for us. Meetings with our designated External Review Liaison began in early August and continued as our Focused School Renewal Plan was revised and implemented.

The goal of our Focused School Renewal Plan was to raise student achievement in Reading, Language Usage, and Mathematics. Our staff intensified implementation of unit planning across the curriculum and differentiated instructional delivery to increase student interest and achievement. Each student received individual attention through personalized student-teacher conferences. These conferences included discussion of test scores, student goal setting, and analysis of writing samples. Small group tutoring by intervention teachers/tutors and integrating technology into the lesson delivery were maximized this year. Smart Boards were used in most of the classrooms to upgrade presentation of standards-based lessons. An online tutorial of South Carolina's educational standards provided us with many examples of practice and was used by students at home and at school.

The students responded and excelled by raising achievement in all three targeted areas. According to the MAP (Measures of Academic Progress) testing, 82% of students met or exceeded target growth expectations in Language Usage; 79% did so in Reading; and 67% did so in Mathematics. Since the MAP test is the best indicator we have to predict student academic performance on the new Palmetto Assessment of State Standards or PASS, we are expecting good things from our test results this year. Furthermore, 100% of our English I and Algebra I students passed the End-of-Course Exam.

Raising the bar academically was not our only focus. We believe well-rounded students should participate in a variety of activities. Two students from our school band were selected for SC Region Four Jr. Band; several of our students participated in the high school marching band; eight girls participated in Columbia College Math Day; one hundred and forty-four students wrote, illustrated, and published books for Young Author's Day; and one of our students was the district Spelling Bee winner.

Finally, our school family pulled together for a successful Relay For Life team effort, raising $2,190.00 for the Upper Dorchester County Relay For Life, which received national recognition on the American Cancer Society website for raising over $85,000.

Clay Hill Middle School is proud to nurture our students in a caring environment which emphasizes student growth and achievement in many areas of life.
